

This big natural avalanche on the East aspect of Emigrant Pk is outside our forecast area, but reminds us that snow is unstable in our surrounding areas. It likely ran Saturday or Sunday from a wind loaded NE aspect below the summit into low angle terrain, at least 2500' vertical total. It completely crossed a previous group's skin track and ski tracks. Photo: J. Curry

No Region, 2018-01-02