

Splitboarders on a dawn patrol got cracking and collapsing as they ascended Mt. Ellis. They stuck to the lower slopes. The snow stability worsened from their trip the day before. Wind-loading occurred down low which made conditions ripe for cracks and whumphs. Photo: W. Ritter

Advisory Region Northern Gallatin Avalanche Details: Collapsing and cracking on Mt. Ellis (2 parties) Northern Gallatin, 2018-12-31