

Large wind slabs on multiple aspects

Date

Sun, 02/26/2023 - 12:30

Activity

Skiing

Today we toured to a ridge across from the west face of Republic Mountain. We observed multiple natural avalanches on several aspects. Winds were calm until around noon, and then picked up in the afternoon and were heavily loading north aspects at this location.

Region

Cooke City

Observer Name

Erich Schreier