Activity

Snowboarding

Triggered a good size slide intentionally on a test slope in bhive, about 5 ft below the summer trail. I'm currently doing a pro level 1 course with AAI, my instructor told me to go jump around above the rollover. The slab initiated almost with a slight delay after my 3rd and closest jump toward the rollover, I started to mumble "well not today" and boom it went.

total snow depth:69cm

SS-AR-D1.5-R3 intentionally triggered

aspect:sw

elevation:8250

I went back after class and did an ect and ct test directly above the crown, where the top of the crown was 24 degrees :

Ectp20 @44cm down

ectp11@44cm down

ct21 @60cm down
